in the solution or you can simply watch it just to see if you got the broad strokes right for example how did you implement the horizontal rule or how do i get this bottom footer section to look like this now it doesn't matter if your website

now it doesn't matter if your website looks similar to mine or not in fact i encourage you to personalize your website but i want you to be able to achieve the layouts that i've specified specification like this now i admit this is a very rough spec and i haven't given you the specific margins and paddings etc but it's a great skill as a web designer to be able to look at a designer to be able to look at a sketched out layout or a markup and to be able to implement that in code inside your css and html so let's get going and feel free to follow along with me or

01:22
